Some may not know what SIOTO is or what they do? Sioto is a organization that offers training for the moonwalk rental industry. They have a comprehensive training program that covers everything, from the first phone call, to set-up, takedown, and maintenance of the many different types of moonwalks and inflatables that are rented today. Also you will learn the different ways the ASTM, CPSC, NEC, and various state agencies and regulations affect and help regulate the inflatable industry. Sioto is a must for everyone in the inflatable industry. Wether you're a newbie or someone who has been around for decades, you can learn something new taking Sioto's comprehensive training program. Sioto has graciously partnered with Airco to offer Full Airco Members a discount on the Sioto Lifetime Membership Fee and the Basic Inflatable Training (BISOC). The normal cost is $15 for the Lifetime Membership Fee and $55 for the BISOC training. With your Full Airco Membership you can get both for $55. So don't think you know it all, take the Sioto training program and see if you do!
